

NG KIM BOON — APRIL 2026 OVER-CLAIM

Real hours = from Driver clock-in until last job/warehouse site

No GPS-disconnect accusations. Only what GPS positively confirms.

The two rules used (only what is provable)

- (1) Real start = Whichever is LATER, Ng tap-in or driver Soh tap-in. If Ng punched in before the driver was even there, that early time is fake.
- (2) Real end = Time the van LEFT the last customer or warehouse site (from driver Soh's GPS). Anything Ng tapped after that is fake — driving back to carpark and idling there is not work.
- Both rules use only positive evidence: the driver's clock card and the driver's GPS at confirmed work locations. If GPS is missing or unclear, we give Ng benefit of doubt.

THE BOTTOM LINE

Ng claimed (clock card):	238.20 hours
Padding BEFORE driver started:	3.63 hours
Padding AFTER last work site:	18.57 hours
PROVABLE OVER-CLAIM:	22.20 hours
Real working hours:	216.00 hours

Deduct 22.20 hours from Ng's April pay. This is conservative — only the time he tapped OUTSIDE the driver's window or AFTER the van had already left the last job site.

DAY-BY-DAY COMPARISON

Real end = time driver Soh's GPS shows the van LEFT the last customer or warehouse site. Anything Ng tapped after that is the "Pad out" column.

WHAT TO DO

1. Show this report to Ng. Numbers are his own clock card vs the driver's clock card and the van's GPS at the last job site.
2. Deduct 22.20 hours from his April pay.
3. Apply the same rule to every staff going forward — clock-out only counts up to the time the van left the last work site, not when they got back to the carpark.
